

Original music and read-along narration included!

Stories of Kindness

Bargain Priced

ONLY $7.98

Originally published as My Princess Treasury © 2003 by Disney Enterprises, Inc.

This 2009 edition published by Sandy Creek, by arrangement with Studia Mause™, an imprint of Trudy Carparatian™

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reprodused, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means,
electronic, mechanical, phatacopying, recording, or otherwise, withaut priar written permission fram the publisher.

Written by Chelsea Gillian Grey
Baok Design: Marcin D. Pilchowski

122 5th Avenue
New York, NY 10011

ISBN-13: 978-1-4351-1719-8

Printed and baund in China

3 5 7 9 10 8 6 4 2

Stories of Kindness

Cinderella's Good Manners

Today is an exciting day at Cinderella's castle. She and the prince are holding a grand ball! Everyone at the castle is excited about the ball—everyone except Cinderella's stepsister, Anastasia.

Anastasia is nervous because her new beau, the baker, will be at the ball and she wants to impress him.

“What I need is a new dress,” says Anastasia. “That will win his heart! What do you think?”

Cinderella smiles. “You know, Anastasia, it’s what is inside that counts,” she says gently. “The best way to impress the baker is to be nice to him. Just use your best good manners.”

“But how do I do that, Cinderella?” asks Anastasia. “I am not as good as you are at being...nice.”

“Well, you could start with a smile,” says Cinderella cheerfully. Anastasia twists her mouth this way and that. She isn’t used to smiling!

“How’s this?” she says finally.

“That’s lovely!” cries Cinderella. “Then you’ll curtsy and say, good evening.”

Cinderella and Anastasia practice smiling and curtsying to the imaginary baker.

“That wasn’t so hard,” says Anastasia.
“What else should I do to show the baker
my best manners?”

“Well Anastasia,” says Cinderella, “if he asks you to dance, be sure to say thank you. And if you would like him to bring you some punch, be sure to say please.”

“Say please and thank you,” repeats Anastasia. She looks sheepishly at Cinderella. “I guess I am not very used to doing that either.”

Cinderella gives Anastasia a forgiving smile.
“It’s never too late to learn.”

Everyone has a wonderful time at the ball, especially Anastasia and the baker!

“Oh, thank you for helping me, Cinderella!” cries Anastasia happily. “The baker said that I am the nicest girl he has ever met! I never knew that good manners were so important!”

“You see,” says Cinderella, “it is what’s inside that counts—and kindness counts most of all!”

Ariel Learns a Lesson

Ariel loves to explore the ocean with her friend, Flounder. There are so many wonderful things to see—but sometimes Ariel strays too far from home and her father worries about her safety.

“Ariel, you must be careful,” says King Triton. “Our ocean home can be very dangerous. You must stay close to the palace where you will be safe.”

Ariel loves her father very much, and she wants to follow his advice—but she is also very curious! One day, she and Flounder find a sunken ship on the sandy sea floor.

“Maybe it’s a pirate ship full of hidden treasure!” says Ariel. They swim inside to see what they can find.

The sunken ship is dark and the water is cold. Ariel and Flounder do not see the hungry shark lurking in the shadows—but the shark sees them! Suddenly, the shark charges at Ariel with his mouth open wide!

“Ariel! Look out!” cries Flounder.
The friends escape just in time.

Flounder and Ariel hurry back to the sea king's castle.

When Sebastian overhears them talking about their adventures, he goes straight to the king! King Triton is upset that Ariel disobeyed him, but he is also relieved.

“My dear daughter,” says the sea king, giving her a hug. “I am so glad you are safe!”

“So am I, Daddy!” says Ariel. “I am sorry I wasn’t more careful. I do love exploring, but from now on I will try to keep to safer waters—and I will definitely stay away from sharks!”

Belle's book becomes even more exciting...
“I'll just read a few more pages,” Belle says to herself.

Soon, Belle notices that it is too dark for her to read. She looks up and sees that the sun is setting and the day is gone. Suddenly, she remembers her promise to her father! She closes
the book and hurries home to help her father in his workshop.

“Oh, Papa! If I had been here, we might have been able to get your invention working! I was lost in my book and forgot that I promised to help you. I am so sorry!”

Belle’s father looks at her kindly and hugs her. “There, there, Belle,” he says gently. “I know you meant no harm. You can help me tomorrow and maybe we can get this device to work, yet—but right now I’m ready for something to eat.”

“You sit and rest and I’ll make supper, Papa,” says Belle. “You have earned it!”

Stories of Kindness

This charming collection of tales featuring your favorite Disney princesses will make you feel like a princess every day!

♪ These learn-aloud stories are enhanced by an audio CD with read-along narration and musical fun!

122 5th Avenue
New York, NY 10011

Manufactured in China
Lot 3 5 7 9 10 8 6 4 2
May 2010
PLN: TB0711006BN

9781435117198
02/24/2018 8:22-2

22